Sitting up high on Heron Street in the quiet village of Fryerstown, a former gold mining community, this 1/4 acre (approx.) vacant Township Zone building block is ready for you to build your country home on. On the lower side of Heron Street with gravel road access, mains water available as is mains power, there are views across the village, Fryers Creek, and the avenue of trees that have stood since the 19th century. Over the road is one of the former churches.

The block will be surveyed and a Land Capability Assessment made available soon, making the building process much easier, so take a look at this land to make your new home here.
