

23 Moscript Street Campbells Creek VIC

2 1 3

Nestled behind a majestic weeping willow, Jones House is a historic cottage built circa 1863 by miner Thomas Jones, reflecting the early settlement years of Campbells Creek. Elevated from the street, this double-fronted brick home stands as a testament to the area's rich history and architectural significance. Set on a generous 2346 sqm (approx), the property offers commanding views of the surrounding landscape and Mount Franklin from the back garden. Conveniently located just a 5-minute drive from Castlemaine for retail, amenities, schools, and train services to Melbourne or Bendigo.

The cottage features the original front-facing sitting room with an exposed brick wall and a classic double-hung window. Adjacent to the sitting is the main bedroom with a
